

Print double sided. Cut on the red lines. Fold on the dotted lines.

You may print as many of these as you need for your class or other event.

Requests for little books may be sent to gwen@UnitStudiesByGwen.com

Other little books are available by clicking on the "short books" link at www.UnitStudiesByGwen.com

© Gwen Nicodemus, 2007

What Grade Am I In?

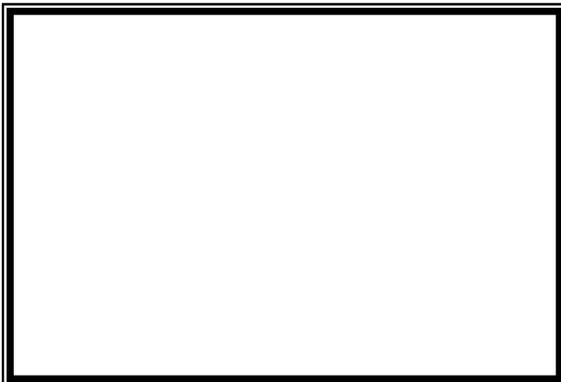

A Child's Guide to Homeschooling
by Gwen Nicodemus

This book belongs to:

Yes, you're a lucky kid.

I hope you make the best of it and enjoy your time with your parents and learning at home. Never forget how lucky you are!

Draw a picture of you and your parents below.

Mommy says I am homeschooled. What does that mean? What is school anyway?

© SIMONIS TECHNOLOGIES, INC.
ARTUES.COM

Print double sided. Cut on the red lines. Fold on the dotted lines.

Some children go to school on a bus. The bus drives around the neighborhood and stops at bus stops. Children get on the bus at the bus stops and get off the bus at school.

2

You'll have more flexibility at home than you would at school. If really want to learn about baking soda and vinegar, you can do it with your mom instead of waiting for teacher.

What happens when you mix baking soda and vinegar? Look for this and other cool experiments at <http://www.chemistry.org>

11

You'll still get to play with other kids too. Your parents may take you to the park, swim class, ballet practice, soccer practice, or many other fun activities.

10

In school, children sit in a classroom with other children the exact same age and learn things from the teacher.

3

Instead of spending all day, every day in a classroom sitting down listening to the teacher, your mom or dad might take you on field trips. You might visit a museum.

There are museums for butterflies, dinosaurs, art, history, and many other topics.

What kind of museums have you visited?

8

At certain times during the day the kids all go outside to play for recess.

Draw a picture of yourself – playing!

A large empty rectangular box with a black border, intended for a child to draw a picture of themselves playing.

5

When the children have to go to the bathroom, they have to ask the teacher for permission.

4

You are still going to need to learn. You need to learn your letters and numbers, but your mommy and daddy will teach you.

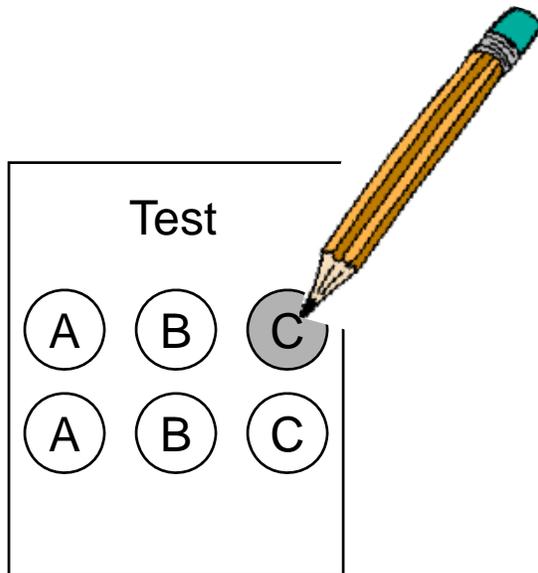

Have your mommy or daddy help you write the letters below.

A

Q

9

Children in school are called students. Students learn how to fill in bubbles on test forms in school.

6

You are a lucky kid though! You're not going to school. Your parents have decided to homeschool you.

What does that mean?

Well, one good thing is you don't have to ask permission to go to the bathroom.

Another good thing is that you will not have to take a test everyday.

The best part is that you get to spend the day with your teacher, who is your mommy or daddy!

7